

The English Theatre Group of Zug is deeply sorry to announce the death of

Cari Zöllner

A key personality of our group since its foundation, Cari - always working alongside her husband Hanns - took a major part in building our group to what it has become today. She took the initiative in directing many of our most successful shows, showing an uncanny eye in casting, unusual artistic creativity in offering polished performances to our audiences and a total commitment to getting the best out of our people.

Cari was a beloved friend and she will be sorely missed. Our deepest sympathy goes to Hanns as well as their children Fabia and Astrid and their families.
